

Call for Papers
"Graduates and labour market"

We are pleased to invite you to submit a working paper in the framework of Erasmus+ Project "Monitoring Trends in Vietnamese graduates' Employment" – MOTIVE (Project number 609781). The call for papers is organized as part of the work package "Evidence-based policies for developing the higher education sector within society" of the MOTIVE project. The Project, co-funded by Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union, is coordinated by AlmaLaurea Interuniversity Consortium, is in implementation phase in Vietnam and involves among other partners, nine Vietnamese Universities. All the details about the project aims, objectives and partnership are available on the project website: www.motive-euproject.net

The call for paper is open to Vietnamese students belonging to MOTIVE partner universities and all other Universities registered on Voyage platform, from all fields and programmes (bachelor and masters level). The main topics featured by the publications include: (i) Graduates and labour market; (ii) Vietnamese education system, society and economy; (iii) Quality of the higher education systems; (iv) Higher education sector and human capital; (v) Labour market structure, challenges and opportunities; (vi) Ethnicity, higher education and labour market; (vii) Graduate Trajectory in COVID times; (viii) Assessment of educational policies.

The evaluation of the working papers will be done by an assessment commission and will take into consideration the (i) relevance (consider social implications, address Conference theme), (ii) validity (well argued, evidence-based, grounded in theory), (iii) significance/originality, (iv) methodological basis and (v) rigor, balance, structure, and clarity.

The best three working papers will be published on the MOTIVE Project website under the section "scientific publications" as well as on the future portal of the Vietnamese Center for Graduates Tracking.

The author (main - one student) of the best working paper will be invited to present it during the Bologna Conference (if possible, we will organize the event in presence, taking into consideration the national/international rules that it is due to come into force). The aim of the Conference is to highlight the future opportunities for the Higher Education in Asia and the tools for improving the higher education sectors put in force by the stakeholders in the area.

The Conference is planned to take place in 2022 (April/May) in Bologna, Italy.

The author should be enrolled in one Vietnamese Higher Education Institution partner of the MOTIVE Project, at the time of deadline for present call (November 30, 2021).

The winner will be announced in Hanoi, Vietnam, during the meeting to be held at Academy of Journalism and Communication, at the beginning of 2022.

The Project will support the expenditure for travel and stay of the winner.

We encourage diversity and attach great importance to an inclusive environment and equal opportunities, regardless of gender identity, disability, race, ethnicity, religion or belief, sexual orientation or age. In case of equal qualifications, priority will be given to candidates of the underrepresented gender at the event and/or students belonging to ethnic minorities.
